

Any of our Server operating systems will come preinstalled on your new Server, this may be a physical or virtual server at your premises, or a physical or virtual server located in a datacentre. All servers can be configured to your requirements to make them suitable for your current and future needs.

From the initial discussions through to the hand over of the servers you will be in complete control.